Analytical instruments: Sugar and beyond

Have a look behind the scenes of modern analytical instrument production in the fascinating historical City of Graz, Styria

Find out what Styria has to offer regarding analytics and taste

Dear ICUMSA Members and Colleagues,

Anton Paar cordially invites you and your companions to visit the Anton Paar headquarters in Graz, Austria. Have a look behind the scenes and learn how the analytical instrumentation you are using in your laboratory is produced. Be inspired by a fully automated sugar laboratory, which can prepare and measure 24/7 all parameters needed for monitoring the sugar manufacturing process.

To extend the scope from sugar to food & beverage samples, we would be delighted to spend the evening after your arrival together at the Anton Paar Sudhaus restaurant in Graz. There, you will get an insight into the production of what we regard the "the world's best-measured self-made beer" at the Anton Paar brewery.
